Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic indicator mean?

- The shares of class I are classified in category 6 because the value of the share may be subject to high variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be high.
- The risk category has been determined on the basis of simulated data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile.
- The risk and reward category shown does not necessarily remain unchanged and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.
- Repayment of the initial investment is not guaranteed.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic indicator?

- Concentration risk: To the extent that the sub-fund investments are concentrated in a particular country, market, industry, sector or asset class, the sub-fund may be susceptible to loss due to adverse occurrences affecting that country, market, industry, sector or asset class.

- Currency risk: when the Fund invests in assets denominated in a different currency. A devaluation of the asset's currency relative to the currency of the Fund will lead to a reduction in the value of the Fund.
- Derivative risk: in order to achieve its objectives, the sub-fund may use derivative instruments whose value may be subject to price fluctuations, positive or negative, much larger than those of the securities in the same sub-fund.
- Liquidity risk: which may occur when investments are made in financial instruments that could have a lower level of liquidity in some circumstances for example in the case of a market crash or default of issuers; due to significant redemptions by shareholders resulting in a potential decrease of the value of certain of the Fund's investments.
- Operational risk: which may occur due to technical issues for example natural disasters, misunderstandings and fraud.
